

News

At the heart of Dawsons Training quality service is communication. We like to make sure all our clients have the information needed to make an informed decision related to their learning, development and work.

New to V.E.T.

The latest changes to the Australian Vocational Education and Training (VET) industry include a new National Legislation called National Vocational Education and Training Regulator Act 2011.

Changes include the creation of a national regulator, the Australian Skills Quality Authority (ASQA), which is responsible for registering training organisations and accrediting courses.

Read more about ASQA's jurisdiction during the transition to national regulation. Or visit <http://www.asqa.gov.au>

Changes to the Generic Induction - COAL

GIQ Coal is a new GI course for anyone working in Queensland in the coal mining industry. The development of GIQ Coal is in response to the introduction of Standard 11, the new Standard for meeting health and safety obligations in the coal mining industry in Queensland. GIQ Coal - was rolled out on July 1, 2011.

To find out more refer to

<http://www.miskillcentre.com.au/our-services/giq-coal/faqs.aspx>

For more information contact Dawsons Training on 40551900

19/07/2011